FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Christmas music from Montana State University will be heard throughout Montana and the nation within the next week through the American Broadcasting Company and University Concert Hall.

A group of 30 students in music at MSU has prepared a special recorded program of cosmopolitan Christmas carols and anthems for the broadcasts. Recording and preparation of the programs was done through the MSU radio studios under the direction of Lee Norton, assistant professor of journalism.

The ABC network invited MSU, among several colleges and universities, to prepare a 15-minute program for broadcast during the Christmas season. The program is tentatively scheduled for 3:30 p.m. (MST) Saturday on ABC network stations.

University Concert Hall, a weekly music feature prepared in the MSU radio studios, will present a 30-minute program of carols and anthems by the group. The program is heard on several Montana radio stations.

Local radio schedules should be checked for exact time of the ABC broadcast and University Concert Hall,
